

T-Mobile For Business MARKETPLACE

SOTI MobiControl

Employees are using their personal devices for work. You need a mobile device management (MDM) solution to protect your company data.

Manage your team's mobile devices

With millions of connected mobile and IoT devices to manage, business operations are complicated. Concerns like downtime, compliance, and security are at the forefront, which makes mobility management a top priority.

Help secure and manage your business-critical mobile devices, apps, and IoT endpoints easily with SOTI MobiControl, now available through T-Mobile for Business Marketplace.

Rapid deployment

Get mobile devices into the hands of your employees faster and help ensure they comply with company policies. Remotely provision devices based on user role or geographic location.

Content management

Create data leakage prevention (DLP) rules to control who can access files and help enforce those rules with the LDAP integration feature.

Data security

Protect mobile devices and help keep corporate content private with encryption, authentication, and password features.

Simple management

Use the complete suite of management tools to help you deliver the right application to the intended employee on their device quickly, securely, and silently.

Remote support

Diagnose, troubleshoot, and resolve device and application issues remotely.

Multi-OS support

Help secure and manage all your mobile devices and IoT endpoints on virtually any operating system from an integrated user interface.

T-Mobile for Business Marketplace offers mobile device management solutions to help you take control and secure your organization's devices.
